

A good part of my mandate was spent in trying to understand the mechanisms of the functioning of the “apparatus”, another part in trying to solve problems of all kinds (legal and financial too), the rest in trying to promote Joomla 4.

The lesson learned

From this experience, I have learned a lot, and probably I have also made some mistakes, but I am still here to submit to your judgment. I believe that the one-year mandate is too short to fully achieve some goals, so I am asking your confidence for a further mandate.

The focus

I will try to concentrate my efforts to make the “Joomla Foundation” operational and finally have the “Advisory board” in full working order, both of which can help the growth of the community.

Best Regards
